

Edmonton Dąbrowski Index

Assembled by William Tillier

1). Edmonton Dąbrowski Index (EDI) – original collection

This index itemizes the contents of most of Dąbrowski's known English papers. The numbering of the material largely reflects the original organization of the folders as I received them after Dr. Dąbrowski passed away. Items in this index are listed as Dąbrowski only if his name appears on the manuscript, otherwise the papers are listed by title. Many documents are undated. Listings reflect information available.

1). Edmonton Dąbrowski Index (EDI)

EDI – 1: Dąbrowski, K. (n.d.). Miguel De Unamuno. Unpublished manuscript, Université Laval. (9 pages) Marked Paulette. There is also a second 9 page copy marked "First Draft."

EDI – 2: An attempt at interpreting the case of Peter in R. D. Laing The Divided Self from the standpoint of the Theory of Positive Disintegration and developmental therapy. Unpublished manuscript. (6 pages)

EDI – 3: A cursory glance at the similarities and differences between the work of Drs. Silverman, Laing and Perry and the Theory of Positive Disintegration.

Paper presented by Dąbrowski at a meeting titled “The Value of Psychotic Experience”, Esalen, Big Sur, California, during the summer of 1968. (6 pages) This is a paper discussing the work of Drs. Julian Silverman, R. D. Laing, Fritz Perls and John Perry (a Jungian analyst from California). R. D. Laing was to attend but did not. See Anderson, (1983, p. 216), for a reference to this meeting. Anderson, W. (1983). The Upstart Spring. Reading MA: Addison Wesley Pub. Co.. The new Esalen web page http://www.esalen.org/air/esalen_initiativesfoldr/esalen_initiatives3.shtml gives this account: [a] series of workshops and seminars entitled The Value of Psychotic Experience, designed to integrate and extend the theories of John Perry, R. D. Laing, Fritz Perls, and Kazimierz Dąbrowski.

A biography of Julian Silverman is also given at:

http://www.esalen.org/air/essays/julian_silverman.htm Julian Silverman, a beloved Esalen teacher and former Esalen general manager, passed away in April 2001. Julian Silverman was one of Esalen’s brightest and most prolific spirits. In 1965 he came to us as a rising star at the National Institutes of Mental Health, having authored (at 32) more than fifty papers on subjects ranging from perceptual style to altered states to schizophrenia and shamanism. In the first years of his involvement with Esalen, he and Richard Price conceived a landmark study of new approaches to the treatment of schizophrenia, which began in 1968 at the Agnews State Hospital in California. Julian was chief on-site researcher for the project, where he also conducted a study of Rolfing that stands today as one of the finest pieces of research ever conducted on a somatic discipline. Julian was one of the most visionary and wide-ranging research psychologists of the twentieth century.
